

NORWICH SCHOOL

Lower School Weekly News

News

Welcome back everyone. The end of the Michaelmas Term was dominated by the weather. The snow on the last day of term brought great excitement to the pupils. The snowmen lasted for weeks!

The last week also brought news that Mrs Wright had her baby. We enjoyed a visit from baby Dominic with proud parents last week.

On Saturday we had 73 candidates sitting entrance exams to enter the Lower School. There was a good mix of boys and girls and entry into school remains competitive.

Clubs start this week. If you have not signed up for your club check with the teacher to see if there is a place available. Those in the play must remember that rehearsals take priority over clubs which take place at the same time.

Please remember that all pupils must have a waterproof coat. All new pupils in the last two years should be wearing the school coat and hat. Others can wear a navy or black coat. New school uniform is compulsory for everyone this September.

Goodbye to our Gappies

We bid farewell to our New Zealand Gappies Monique Stubbing and Jonathan Nabbs. They gave a brilliant presentation on their time in England as well as the many countries they visited during the holidays. Jonathan has now returned to New Zealand to start his degree course to become a vet. Monique will be returning in March to complete her degree course. We all wish them well.
